

An Invitation to the Arboricultural Community!

The Taranaki Open

Tree Climb: Saturday

Mountain Climb: Sunday

Waitangi Weekend 2011

Stratford – King Edward Park – Egmont National Park

Five Trees, Two Days, One Mountain, Two Thousand Five Hundred and Eighteen Metres

Friday Evening: BBQ and gear check

Saturday: Tree Climbing

At King Edward Park:

(Stratford's family, picnic, dog, and climber friendly park)

Standard events, with ranking points available – and a judges/climbers feedback session.

Prize giving and social straight after.

Sunday: Mountain Climbing

At the National Park:

The first 1,100 metres are free (you can drive); Then a transit from the Stratford Plateau car park to the Taurangi Lodge, then a climb up the Northern Summit Route.

There will be a nominal fee to cover BBQ costs and the like.

Keep watching the NZAA website for details.

E-mail us on nww1@waikato.ac.nz to register your interest.

An Invitation to the Arboricultural Community!

Waitangi Weekend 2011
TARANAKI OPEN
TREE CLIMBING COMPETITION
and
MOUNTAIN CLIMB
STRATFORD

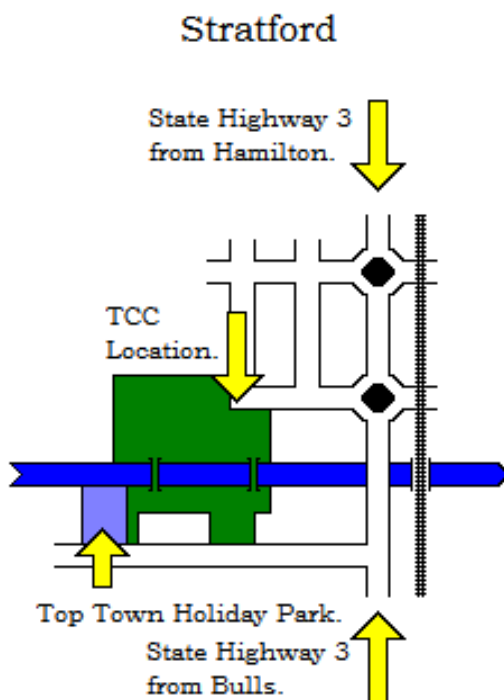

King Edward Park: A combination of Park, Bush, and River – Twenty acres established in well, the name'll give you a clue. KEP is a climber friendly, dog friendly, picnic friendly, family friendly kind of park – so bring the family, dog, picnic basket and your climbing gear.

Stratford: A mountain town very nearly equidistant from Auckland and Wellington on State Highway Three. Stratford has New Zealand's only glockenspiel clock tower, and streets named for Shakespeare's characters.

Egmont National Park: Pretty cool.

Taranaki / Egmont: No eruptions since 1755!

Top Town Holiday Park: Right next door, camp and climb – who could have asked for more. It is also for sale. www.stratfordtoptownholidaypark.co.nz

E-mail us on nww1@waikato.ac.nz to register your interest.